

LALAH HATHAWAY LIVE

On Tuesday, April 21st for one night only, two-time GRAMMY® award winner, Lalah Hathaway, recorded her first ever live album entitled “Lalah Hathaway Live” in a two-show concert event! The beautiful songstress, took to the Troubadour stage in Los Angeles, following in the footsteps of her father—the late, great, Donny Hathaway—who in 1971 recorded his classic LP, “Donny Hathaway Live” at the same venue! Many celebrities and tastemakers joined Lalah for this intimate performance as they experienced the Hathaway legacy and were witnesses to the next generation of music history! The album will feature 14 songs and include singles like “Little Ghetto Boy” and a cover of the Anita Baker classic, “Angel”. “Lalah Hathaway Live” will be supported by an interactive tour which will allow fans to suggest the set list at every tour stop, thus making every performance different.

A voice for all time! There’s no other way to describe the mesmerizing magic of two-time GRAMMY® Award winner Lalah Hathaway. Blessed with an evocative alto, Hathaway knows no boundaries. Who else possesses the mind-blowing ability to split her voice and harmonize with herself as Hathaway did on the GRAMMY® Award winning Snarky Puppy collaboration “Something”? That’s just one example of Hathaway’s unerring versatility. Her diverse range of guest vocal credits includes projects with everyone from late jazz piano virtuoso Joe Sample to rap wunderkind Kendrick Lamar. Then there’s Hathaway’s own catalog of six critically acclaimed solo albums, featuring such signature songs as “Heaven Knows,” “Let Go” and an unforgettable cover of the Luther Vandross classic “Forever, For Always, For Love.” In 2015, Lalah won the GRAMMY® Award for Best Traditional R&B Performance along with Robert Glasper and Malcolm-Jamal Warner for “Jesus Children”.
